The memorial rose garden, which was set out by the Lawrence County Garden Club, across from the Jameson Memorial hospital, on West Leasure avenue, is now a place of beauty. The roses are well out in bloom and make a beautiful appearance.

When most of us are gazing longingly at our strawberry patches and wondering how long it will be before the first fruit appears, Charles Fullerton of E. D. 7, Mahoningtown, has berries on his plants that look like late July products. Mr. Fullerton brought three of them to The News for display and one of the berries measured seven and one-half inches in circumference and is the shape of a flower. Just how long they will remain on exhibit will be decided by the will power of the office workers who are casting covetous glances at the fruit.

Flood Battle Is Continued On Columbia

PORTLAND, Ore., June 7.—(INS)—Men and sandbags today apparently were winning the crucial battle of soft dikes against the second crest of the Columbia river flood.

At only one point on a 120-mile front from Portland to the Pacific did high water, aided by eight-foot tides, crack man-made defenses.

That was at a small private dike near Clatskanie, Ore., where a family of six, refusing to leave their homes, were marooned in 15 feet of water covering 137 new acres of rich mint and bulb lands.

The latest flood casualty figures were not so encouraging, however. The Red Cross reported that 28 persons were dead in the northwest, 52 were unaccounted for, and some 43,503 persons were temporarily homeless. It added that 526 homes had been destroyed and another 1,806 damaged seriously.

It was feared that further salvage and rescue operations would increase the fatality toll.

Egyptian Troops Advance To Aid Latest Assault

Seek To Join Arab Legion In Attack On Jewish Held
Jerusalem

BULLETIN

TEL AVIV, June 7.—(INS)—Egyptian troops reportedly advanced to Jerusalem today to join the Arab Legion in an all-out assault on the Jewish-held new city. A Cairo communique claimed that advance Egyptian mobile units are already shelling the holy city's southern suburbs. Jerusalem dispatches said that Arab shelling has been intensified, and that a major offensive may be in the making.

Two-Fronged Attack

Simultaneously, Syria launched a two-pronged attack in northern Palestine, aimed at forcing a Jewish retreat from western Galilee. A Damascus communique asserted that Syrian troops advanced across the Lebanese frontier in the north, and the Syrian frontier north of the sea of Galilee, hurling back Israeli defenders with heavy losses.

But elsewhere in Palestine, Israel claimed the victories. Jewish fighters were attacking the Arab "triangle of terror" northeast of Tel Aviv on a 20-mile front and important successes were announced.

In the south, Israeli forces continued to hack away at the Egyptian invasion spearhead trapped near Isdud, about 22 miles south of Tel Aviv. Front-line dispatches said that some 5,000 Egyptians hemmed in by the Israeli troops are now without armor, and several units have been cut off from the main body.

Cut off from their supply bases, the Egyptians are in a precarious position.

John L. Lewis And Operators Start New Talks

Must Have New Agreement
By End Of June To Avert
New Coal Strike

LEWIS COMPLIES WITH COURT ORDER

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(INS)—John L. Lewis called upon the soft coal operators today to make an "offer" on a new 1948 wage contract, promising that the United Mine Workers "have at present no wage proposals."

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—John L. Lewis and the nation's soft coal operators resumed bargaining sessions today on a new 1948 mine wage agreement.

The conference got under way shortly after 11 a. m. E.D.T., as the UMW chief complied with a federal court order to negotiate with the Southern Coal Producers' Association.

Lewis previously had been willing to bargain with northern, mid-western and far western operators representing nearly 300 million tons of coal production annually, but had sought to exclude the Southern Association headed by Joseph E. Moody.

At Conference Table

In compliance with an injunction issued by Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, the union leader sat down at the conference table this morning with Moody and operators from all other sections of the country in an industry-wide bargaining parley.

UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy, union secretary-treasurer John Owens, UMW general counsel Elly K. Hopkins and a number of district union leaders accompanied Lewis into the negotiating meeting.

The current mine contract expires June 30. In issuing his injunction, Judge Goldsborough recognized the possibility of a "without under the miners' no contract, no work" policy if a new agreement is not signed by the end of June.

Part Of Foreign Aid Fund Cut To Be Restored

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(INS)—A conference compromise ultimately restoring part but not all of the two billion dollars the House slashed from global aid funds shapes up as a probability today. It appears virtually certain that the drive headed by Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., GOP foreign affairs spokesman, will bring Senate approval of the full six billion $33 million the administration asked for a one-year program.

By cutting the appropriation 533 million dollars and spreading it over 15 months instead of 12, the House action had the general effect of reducing the overall Marshall plan program by two billion dollars.

If the expected full restoration by the Senate takes place, the appropriation then will go to a House-Senate conference for a compromise.

You asked for the rain, now didn't you? You yelled that your garden was dry, and the raindrops wilted and the cabbages were high. So you yelled for more rain and you got it, and brother it's just what we need, for under the earth just waiting to pop there's a lot of impatient dry seed. But this rain was a dandy you'll grant it, don't tell me that it got here too late, the thing is just this we got it today and the weather is pretty tight.

Sunday School Leader Retires After 44 Years

George R. McClelland Bows Out
Almost Half Century in Sunday School Work

One of the most unique records in Sunday school work was made Sunday by George R. McClelland of 400 Pine street when he completed 44 years service as a Sunday school superintendent, the last 27 of which were spent serving as head of the Central Presbyterian church Sunday school.

The first 12 years of his Sunday school leadership was spent at the McClure Avenue Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh, beginning his task of superintendency in the early part of this century thence coming to Lawrence county where he served for five years as superintendent of the Scotland Lane Mission school.

The past 27 years spent as leader of the Central Presbyterian Church Bible school have been pleasant ones, Mr. McClelland stated today and it is his desire to turn the work over to younger workers.

During his untiring service in the Sunday school, a number of workers who were raised as children in the Central Presbyterian Sunday school have gone out into the ministry or mission field. Among these was the former Miss Evelyn Wingerd who served in China for a period but is now in the United States serving as the wife of a busy pastor.

Mr. McClelland will continue in his position as a member of the Session of Central Presbyterian church. He will also continue actively in his work as a grocer in his downtown store.

RUN FROM COVER

BOSTON—(INS)—A new kind of "flying disk" phenomenon—in the form of what appeared to be soaring manhole covers—scared Boston recently. As a matter of fact, the disks were manhole covers sent skyward by a series of explosions in Boston's underground utility system. To prevent recurrence of this danger, the safety committee of the Boston city council is studying means of preventing explosions and also ventilating 20,000 manholes so the covers won't "take off" under pressure.

Y.M.C.A. Classes Enjoy Jamboree

One hundred and seventy boys, representing all classes of the Y.M.C.A. boys' department gathered at Camp Fred L. Rentz Saturday and enjoyed a big picnic jamboree.

This is the largest group that has ever congregated at the summer site at one time.

The day was spent in sports of all kinds and a picnic supper was served at the conclusion of the activities. The boys returned to the "Y" building for a swim in the pool. Transportation to the camp and back was furnished by the Maple Drive Dairy Farms.

Free Swimming Classes Under Way

The annual free-swimming campaign of the Y.M.C.A. got underway this afternoon in the association pool.

The campaign is designed to teach boys of all ages the water sport and is open to everyone, not just "Y" members.

Basic strokes through the more advanced stages will be taught by competent instructors at the branch.

Careful Night Driving Urged

State Police Patrols Check Lighting Equipment; Col. Wilhelm Warns Drivers

HARRISBURG, June 7. — Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, State Police Commissioner, today asked motorists to ease up on the gas and step on the dimlight button to make night driving safer.

Emphasizing that too-bright headlights and high speed combine to create a serious after-dark driving hazard, the Commissioner said:

"Glaring lights temporarily blind an approaching driver. In the seconds that are required for his eyes to adjust themselves a serious crash may occur. The courteous and careful driver always dims his lights when meeting traffic regardless of what the other fellow does. If it is apparent that the driver of an approaching car is not going to dim his lights, then reduce speed and prepare for an inevitable moment of blindness."

He pointed out that patrols and special details of State Police check the lighting equipment of many cars each month and require proper correction of defects.

During March, 1948, there were 40,137 cars stopped and inspected as compared with 21,100 in March last year. There were 9,859 warning cards issued during March, 1948, and 7,199 warnings in the same month last year.

Gov. Duff Approves Pa. G.A.R. Highway

Route 6 Passes Through 14 States;
All Approve Except Utah
And Nevada.

HARRISBURG, June 7.—Governor James H. Duff has approved the designation of U. S. Highway Route 6, across the northern tier counties of Pennsylvania, as the Grand Army of the Republic highway.

U. S. Route 6, an east-west highway, enters Pennsylvania at the west near Pennline on the Ohio border west of Meadville. It enters Pennsylvania in the east at Matamoras on the New York border above Millford.

The route passes through 14 states. All except Nevada and Utah have designated the thoroughfare as the Grand Army of the Republic highway.

Ray F. Smock, Secretary of Highways, announced that signs will be erected at the Ohio and New York entrances of the highway into Pennsylvania, informing motorists of the designation. The signs will bear the legend that the road is the Grand Army of the Republic highway, formerly known as the Roosevelt highway.

Kitchen-Mitchell, Jr., Wedding, In Cunningham Armory Saturday

LT. AND MRS. GEORGE F. MITCHELL, JR.

Cunningham armory on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock was the scene of a colorful and impressive military wedding when Miss Thelma R. Kitchen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Kitchen, of Jamestown, Pa., became the bride of Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell, Jr., son of Col. and Mrs. George F. Mitchell, of 327 North Jefferson street, this city.

Baskets of flowers against an embankment of palms and ferns and lighted candles in tall branched candelabra at the altar formed an effective setting for the exchange of vows. Major W. J. Harper McKnight, chaplain corps, New Wilmington, officiated.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin and lace, a fingertip veil falling from a headress embroidered in seed pearls, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

As matron of honor, Mrs. E. G. Sharp, of New Wilmington, sister of the groom, wore a gown of white eyelet embroidery with a white satin jacket, an open crown picture hat of yellow net, and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white flowers. Bridesmaids, the Misses Evelyn Lucas and Betty Jane Evans, wore gowns of white marquisette with white lace jackets and pastel green net picture hats, and carried colonial bouquets of white and light green.

Cpl. Albert L. Mitchell served his brother as best man, and ushers were Lt. W. C. Rowland and Lt. E. L. Goodfellow.

For a half-hour recital preceding the ceremony Mrs. Harry Gettings, pianist, played and accompanied soloist Robert T. Walker, of Centerville, uncle of the groom, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Oh Promise Me."

Following the ceremony there was a reception for 150 guests in the recreation room at the armory, where the bride party and mothers of the bride and groom formed a receiving line.

A profusion of vases and baskets of flowers decorated the room and the table from which refreshments were served, buffet style, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was cut with a sabre by the bride and groom. Aides were Mrs. Paul Barbour, Mrs. William Glitch, Mrs. Walter Russell and Mrs. Trevor Griffiths.

The bride couple left the armory under an arch of sabres held by eight officers of the Guard.

Lt. and Mrs. Mitchell left by car on a wedding trip to New York City and the New England states. Upon their return they will make their home in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Mitchell is employed as a secretary and Mr. Mitchell attends Westminster college.

Pierre Bonnard, French painter, used a kitchen plate for a palette and paint on a sheet tacked to the wall. He did a number of pictures on the sheet, of different sizes and subjects, not taking the sheet down until it was covered with paintings, then cutting them up and mounting them.

GRADUATION BALL
Held by Catholics
Graduates of Lawrence county were feted at a lovely graduation ball, Saturday evening, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, with approximately sixty couples attending.

Sponsored by the Lawrence County Union of Sodalties, the dance started at 8:30 o'clock, and continued until 11:30 p. m., with a popular local orchestra providing the pleasing dance selections.

The girls were lovely in new spring formal of gay, pastel shades. During the evening, useful door prizes were won by a girl and boy graduate.

Chaperons were members of the school faculties.

I. V. D. Class To Meet
I. V. D. class of the First Christian church will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the church parlors for its monthly meeting with Mrs. John A. Earl and Mrs. Ed Carr as hostesses.

HARROWING CONTROLS WEEDS, SAVES TIME

Use of chemical weed killers on corn is still in the experimental stage and, except for possible emergencies, should wait for added research.

Meanwhile many farmers do nearly all their early cultivation with a rotary hoe, spike harrow, or weeder. Where the corn is planted deeply, or in a hollow furrow on the contour, even a spring harrow is sometimes used.

Harrowing knocks the weeds out of the row while they are still small, and also keeps the entire soil surface loose and permeable to moisture and air. It does both jobs in the shortest possible time.

Harrowing may follow every rain after planting and can be continued until the corn is at least 6 to 8 inches tall with very little damage to the stand. It should never be done in the morning when corn plants snap off easily, where horses are used, it may be better, where practical, to harrow across, or diagonally across, the rows, rather than with them.

A weeder can be used after each row cultivation until the corn is a foot high. On heavy soils, compacted by rain, a weeder will not do much good unless the soil between the rows is loosened with a cultivator.

CLEANING SHORT-CUTS SAVE TIME AND MONEY

You can save countless trips up and down stairs by having cleaning equipment on each floor of your home. Two brooms cost more than one, but will last twice as long and will save up and down stairs walking.

A basket or a tray is helpful for carrying small cleaning supplies, such as dustcloths, and furniture polish, from room to room. You also may use a tray or basket to collect all knickknacks to be dusted or washed.

Some homemakers find it handy to keep their small cleaning equipment in a carrier of pockets, such as an old shoe bag. The bag, attached to a coat hanger, can be hung on a door knob or hook. Fill the pockets with bottles of polish, wax, brushes, cleaning gloves, and any other small articles except oily cloths.

When you scrub, you will save time, temper, and soap by having a soap dish fastened to the side of the scrub wall.

Not only can most homemakers be more systematic, but they can improve their skill. A special trick for cleaning radiators is to put wet paper over and under the radiator. With a long-handled brush or vacuum attachment, dust can be removed and very little goes into the air. This same idea can be used under bed springs when you clean them.

Start Hearing On W. Pittsburg Water Co. Plea

Testimony was started this morning on the petition to abandon the West Pittsburg Water Company. The petition is being heard before Examiner H. J. Peacock of the Public Utility Commission, in the court house.

The petition to abandon the waterworks was filed with the commission recently by the West Pittsburg Water Company by the owners of the company, Barnett A. Marcus and Peter A. Paulson. The reason advanced for the proposed abandonment is that the company has been losing money.

Show Financial Condition
For the petitioners Murray Thaw, an accountant testified to the financial condition. He said the income in 1947 was $3,543.10 including water delinquencies for three years paid by the Taylor township commissioners. Thaw said there were 162 metered customers in 1947 including four industries and also 25 fire hydrants.

Peter A. Paulson testified that he and his partner, Mr. Marcus had been forced to put in over $300 since January 1 of this year to meet expenses.

"Asked what the citizens of West Pittsburg would do if the water plant was abandoned Mr. Paulson said they could either drill wells or take over the water plant."

He also testified that he and his partner had made a "basket purchase" of industries, water company and other assets in 1944 and could not estimate what the purchase price of the waterplant alone was.

For the petitioners former Public Utility Commissioner Thomas Buchanan and Attorney Allen D. Keller are counsel. The petition is being protested by the citizens of West Pittsburg, the supervisors of Taylor township and the county commissioners. Attorneys Robert L. Wallace, Gilbert D. Long and County Solicitor William McKelvey, Jr., represent the protestants.

Woman Who Offered To Marry For $10,000 Goes To See Suitor

NEW YORK, June 7.—(INS)—Mrs. Dorothy Lawlor, the 28-year-old divorcee who offered herself in marriage to any man who would ante up $10,000, flew to Florida today to interview the applicant who is the current No. 1 choice.

The blonde hawkeet girl in a Valley Stream, N. Y., roadhouse left New York aboard Eastern Airlines' Flight 651.

Mrs. Lawlor, who has two children by her previous marriage, is on her way to meet for the first time her man of the hour, Dan Wickler, 37-year-old proprietor of "Danny's Musical Bar" in Daytona Beach, Fla.

She said Wickler wired her the specified $10,000 and wooed her with a series of telegrams and long distance phone calls.

Mrs. Lawlor said she will spend three or four days in Daytona Beach and "if it turns out the way we plan" return to New York briefly before rejoining Wickler for a marriage ceremony in Mexico.

IN THE OPEN

Our backyard has become an international battleground. Subversive agents from other lands have cleverly installed an ugly array of thugs and hoodlums within our fences. Their technique is all too familiar. Some of our more sensitive citizens have already given up in disgust and moved on elsewhere, unable to stomach the filthy habits and boorish manners of these international brigands.

Give them an inch and they'll take the whole backyard. The good American way of backyard democracy is in peril wherever these blatant fellow travelers gain a foothold. Cowardly in single combat, they usurp the best building sites by sheer weight of numbers and proceed to turn the once-peaceful residential district into a noisy slum.

Sections Taken Over
Great sections of the countryside have already been taken over by these un-American immigrants. Unless some drastic counter-measures are invoked not a healthy nor public building from coast to coast will be safe from their massed attack.

Advance agents of this criminal gang appeared on our shores many years ago. They came openly, amid much fanfare as to their ability to combat certain noxious insects. It was not long until we found that the English sparrow was not only combating insects, but everything else that got in the way of his rapid homesteading. He is a Leftist, loud and arrogant, always quarreling and a complete nuisance.

Build Bulky Nest
A pair of robins had nested for many years in a cedar tree close by our back porch. One season the English attacked in force and routed the natives. They immediately moved in with a tremendous load of household goods, building a bulky slipshod nest that kept falling all over the lawn. I didn't have the heart to push the nest out of the tree and we put up with the continual racket and general mess all Summer.

Advised To Move
Since then I have pointedly advised these fellows to go on about their business when they show signs of building anywhere near by. In the Winter months they have an annoying habit of sleeping in the garage. This wouldn't be so bad if they didn't insist on touching the paint job on the old family car. I have put in many an irate half hour battling at them with a broom as they flit cooly from rafter to rafter, always just out of reach.

After the English sparrows had "softened up" our defenses, the real saboteurs of backyard decency moved in. These are the storm troopers of the bird world, the self sufficient starlings. They are by no means meek, but they will soon inherit the earth unless someone is done to stop their advance.

Enjoyed Bluebirds
We used to enjoy the bluebirds who nested regularly with us. Their quiet, dignified manners made them most desirable tenants. I built them a roomy box on the side of the garage and they took up residence immediately. Then the starlings arrived and put in a claim for the box. It gave me no little pleasure to see the bluebird rout the foreigners decisively.

The starlings called for instructions and were soon hard at work, boring from within to unseat the bluebirds. They moved in behind the box, building in the narrow space between the box and the side of the garage. Here they raised a brood with such a racket and amid such filth that the bluebirds had no choice but to seek more dignified surroundings elsewhere.

Find Fault

As with all fellow travelers the starlings seem to find fault with everything in their "adopted" country. They sit in our poplar trees and jeer at everything and everybody passing beneath. So far as I am concerned they came to scoff and have remained to scoff. It would be of vast benefit to the whole conservation program if the policy makers would forget predator control and give some thought to these aliens, who are unworthy of citizenship, and who are shouldering our native birds out of existence.

To make matters worse, this year the backyard battle has seen fifth column activity by the traitorous cowbirds. The shiftless, lazy females have spent many hours skulking about the shrubbery, spying out the nests of the chipping sparrows so that they may sneak in and deposit their unwanted egg with the sparrow's clutch. Our backyard was once a paradise ground for the good old Yankee robin. Now it has become a sort of sounding board for all the feathered rabble rousers in the neighborhood.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

ably use a thousand dollars' worth of federal government each year. When government becomes the cost itself and that it is departing widely from the fundamentals of the Constitution.

Constitutional Functions What are the constitutional functions of the government outlined in defining the powers of Congress under Section 8 of Article I? Briefly to—

Lay and collect taxes to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare; Borrow money on the credit of the United States;

Establish naturalization and bankruptcy laws; Coin money and regulate the value thereof;

Punish counterfeiting; Establish postoffice and post routes;

Declare war;

Provide for courts, armies and navies, and

Make laws for the exercise of these powers.

That is the maximum of government as laid down by the Founders. To forestall the assumption of other powers it is specifically provided in Article X of the Bill of Rights that—

"The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Object Of Constitution Makers Plainly the object of the Constitution makers was to prevent the thing which all through history has brought about the failure of governments—the evil of too much government.

As to how much governing the average citizen was supposed to require, the subject is thoroughly covered by the Bill of Rights, granting him freedom of speech, religion and press, right of assembly and petition against grievances, immunity from search or seizure by official caprice, trial by jury with protection against cruel and unusual punishment and excessive bail. There is another specific clause here:

"The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

Considering the simple and positive statement of the powers of the government and the rights of the people, how has it been possible for this country to reach a stage where government has spread out its powers over the States and the people until it is the most monumental establishment in the history of the world?

Furthermore, how has it been possible for a government so simply designed and so clearly limited in its functions to reach a point where a yearly contribution in excess of one thousand dollars must be made by each family of four to finance its operations? (In addition to this annual contribution, it might be noted, the same family carries a federal debt mortgage of some $7000.)

Have Gone Far Afield The answer is, of course, that we have permitted those in authority to go far, far afield in the exercise of governmental powers and to assume a multiplication of functions undreamed of by the makers of the Constitution. It is worth noting that while government has become more and more centralized in Washington, and more and more expensive, there has been a decline in the costs of local and state governments. This can only mean that the central government is widely expanding its authority without any savings to citizens on the score of home government.

Woodrow Wilson uttered a profound truth when he said: "The history of liberty is the history of the limitations upon the power of the government." By the same token, the history of lost freedom is the history of the unbridled expansion of the powers of government.

Another decade of centralization, of constantly expanding government functions, and constantly mounting government expenditures could mean the destruction of government as provided in the Constitution of the United States. It is time for the people to demand a return to basic American principles.

Around Hollywood

By RUTH BRIGHAM
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, June 7.—(INS).—Fans, you can't believe the billboards—not when it comes to advertising Hollywood productions. Hollywood figures there's got to be sex interest in a movie in order to sell the public, and if there's none, then they just simply add it to the advertisements.

That flaming photo of Rita Hayworth that adorns the street cars and billboards—wearing a low cut gown that must have been sprayed on her—never appears in the movie itself. The gown was merely used for publicity stills.

Sweet Publicity

And when Metro released "The Search" they displayed undraped females on the advertising posters, although the movie was really a story of the postwar problem in a bombed-out European city. The ads were to lure you into the theater.

Dorothy Lamour hasn't worn a sarong in six years but advertising posters of her movies always show Dottie in a sarong.

The advertisers faced a dilemma in those many wartime pictures "Walk in the Sun" and "Sahara"—no feminine interest.

So what did they do on the billboards but throw in glamorous gals—the dreams of the soldiers in the field?

Movies In Making

Movies in the making: "A Letter of Three Wives," with Jeanne Crain, Linda Darnell and Ann Southern (20th Century-Fox); "Yellow Sky" with Gregory Peck, Ann Baxter (20th Century-Fox); "Family Honeymoon" with Claudette Colbert, Fred MacMurray (Universal-International); "Take Three Tenses"—David Niven (RKO).

And scheduled for the month:

New Contract At Youngstown United Plant

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 7.—United Engineering and Foundry company's Youngstown plant has signed a new one-year contract with the United Engineering and Foundry Company Employees association, an independent union, General Superintendent Harry D. Kuthe said Saturday.

No changes in the pay rate was provided for in the contract, with United following the lead of its principal customers, the steel concerns, in trying to hold prices.

Negotiations leading to the new contract were completed Friday he said.

United's local plant is virtually swamped with orders, both domestic and foreign, and these assure the plant good operations for at least several years. The orders are for steel mill equipment needed to modernize the American industry and for rebuilding war-ravaged European steel plants.

Downpour Ends Long Dry Spell

Showers During Night Turns Into Downpour Here This Morning, Ending Drought

Showers during the night, which turned into a general downpour this morning, ended a long dry spell in the local district, and did a great amount of good to farm and garden crops.

Little rain had fallen here for the last three weeks, and the warm sun and winds had taken most of the moisture out of the topsoil. Lawns were beginning to turn brown, and gardens were badly in need of the moisture.

A quarter of an inch of rain fell during the night, starting about 6:30 o'clock, and by noon, more than that amount had fallen during the morning hours.

Florence Nightingale, founder of modern professional nursing, led and organized a revolt against physical and environmental dirt. She demanded cleanliness of the women who worked with her as nurses, her first orders to them being for cleanliness. These reforms she fought for until the day of her death at the age of 91.

Shriners Gather At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 7.—(INS)—Fez-topped nobles from all sections of the United States held sway in Atlantic City today. Some 40,000 strong, they poured in on this resort city over the week-end for the 74th Imperial session of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine of North America.

The meeting will last five days, and at least 10,000 of the Shriners and their ladies will live in their Pullman trains because every hotel in Atlantic City is jammed to capacity.

The song "Robin Adair" was based on an old Irish melody, "Eileen Aroon," which dates back to the 18th or 19th century.

Truman Delegation From Nebraska May Now Be Split

State Chairman Says Democratic Organization Ignored On President's Visit

OMAHA, Neb. June 7.—(INS)—The Nebraska Democratic state chairman declared today that President Truman's visit to Omaha may have cost him the solid support of the Nebraska delegation at the national convention.

Chairman William Ritchey angrily denounced the handling of arrangements for the presidential visit, asserting the State Democratic organization had been ignored.

He said: "It looks like the Nebraska delegation, which has been solid for Truman, is badly split. There probably will be a number who will vote for Eisenhower on the first ballot if he runs."

The state chairman referred to the fact that only an estimated 2,000 persons turned out in the 10,000-capacity Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum yesterday for one of Mr. Truman's addresses on his westward campaign swing.

Dispute Causes Flash Strike At Radiator Plant

In a dispute over management policy in the foundry, about 400 employees of the National Radiator Company staged a flash strike today.

Early this afternoon the foundry and core room were not on the job but other departments were working. A committee of employees is attempting to get the matter adjudicated.

The contract between the company and the CIO is in effect and has some months yet to run. The dispute last night and this morning was not over wages or working conditions it is said but rather over personnel.

Take Part In Four County Farm Tour

Teachers and students of vocational agriculture in the four-county area made a farm tour last week to study farm electrification in a practical way. The tour, under the sponsorship of Pennsylvania Power company, visited six farms, at each of which practical and interesting applications of electricity were viewed. The group included the vocational agriculture teachers from each of the township schools in this area having such classes, and each teacher selected a student from his class to accompany the group. Farms visited are located in Beaver, Lawrence and Mercer counties and the tour was climaxed by a dinner at the New Wilmington grange hall in the evening. Farm electrification in this area has made rapid progress in recent years, and the vocational classes in the township schools have done much to further the interest of students in the labor-saving possibilities of electricity on the farm. J. C. Fink of New Castle is supervisor of vocational education for Lawrence, Butler and Beaver county schools, and John Mallory of Mercer is supervisor of this work in the Mercer county schools.

PROPER SIGNATURES

"Please write a detailed explanation of the 'Mrs.' and 'Miss' problem in signatures. I am mostly concerned when to sign 'Mrs. Mary' and when 'Mrs. John' and when merely 'Mary Smith' without the 'Mrs.' Also tell us if a man ever signs his title 'Mr.' 'Dr.' or whatever it might be."

Answer: A personal letter should never be signed "Miss" "Mr." nor "Mrs." A woman always, with the exceptions outlined below, signs her name "Mary Smith." If the person to whom she is writing does not know how to address her, she should, if she is "Miss Smith" have (Miss) thus in parenthesis precede her name. If she is married, she should add in parenthesis under her signature (Mrs. John Smith). As I said previously, this applies only to those not knowing how to address her. The name or title in parenthesis is not a signature but merely for informative purposes. The following are the only instances when a woman properly signs herself "Mrs." or "Miss": When writing to a tradesman, to a domestic, signing a business telegram, a hotel register or in some similar impersonal circumstance. She should never, under any circumstances, sign "Mrs. Mary Smith."

Mr. John Smith should sign his name "John Smith" eliminating the "Mr." If he has a title, it may be inserted underneath on anything other than personal letters, for instance "Major U. S. Army," "Governor of New York." This may be especially done on hotel registers. A medical doctor usually adds "M. D." on a hotel register so that he may be properly identified, if necessary.

Question: Would it be proper for me to give my daughter a baby shower? Neighbors and friends say yes and no, so I decided to write to you. What do you say?

Answer: Friends, not relatives especially the immediate family, should give showers. This applies to both engagement and baby showers. So, if you would be proper, do not give your daughter a shower.

Present your problems to Miss Markee who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped self-addressed envelopes.

National Open Starts Thursday

Golfdom's Top Show To Be Played At Riviera Club; Stars Practice

By LEO MELZER
(International News Service Sports Writer)
LOS ANGELES, June 7.—The top show among golfers—the 48th National Open Golf Championship—gets under way Thursday.

Contestants in the 72-hole tournament started practice today over the tough Riviera Country club at Los Angeles.

One former double winner of the open will not be present. Gene Sarazen of New York will be unable to participate because of his daughter's illness.

An all-time record entry of 1,418 players attempted to qualify for America's premier golfing event. Sectional tests throughout the country cut the number of 171.

Of this list, three players were exempt from the scattered trials. Riviera is a tough course. Rough has grown along the fairways.

Deep grass surrounds the greens. Breezes which open develop into gusts hit the course by midday.

Those familiar with the layout say its 71 par will stand up and that a score of 284 for 72 holes should be good enough to win the title.

Former titleholder Lloyd Mangrum, present leading professional money winner with $15,714, expects to make a strong bid for a repeat.

So does defending champion Lew Worsham and previous winners Tommy Armour, Olin Dutra, amateur Chick Evans, Ralph Guldahl, Lawson Little, Tony Macero and Craig Wood.

One man always has done well on the Riviera course. Ben Hogan, the bantamweight from Hershey, Pa., has won the last two Los Angeles opens on the Riviera.

Hogan's recent win in the PGA championships stamps him as the man to beat in the tourney. He is in top form and with his deliberate care already has been practicing during the last week on the 7,000-yard layout.

Fightin' Name

WHEN Heavy Champ Joe Louis and Challenger Jersey Joe Walcott square off in their title bout in New York, June 23, the most interested sports fan in the country will be a Parma, O., radio engineer. He has reason to be, too, for his good name is at stake.

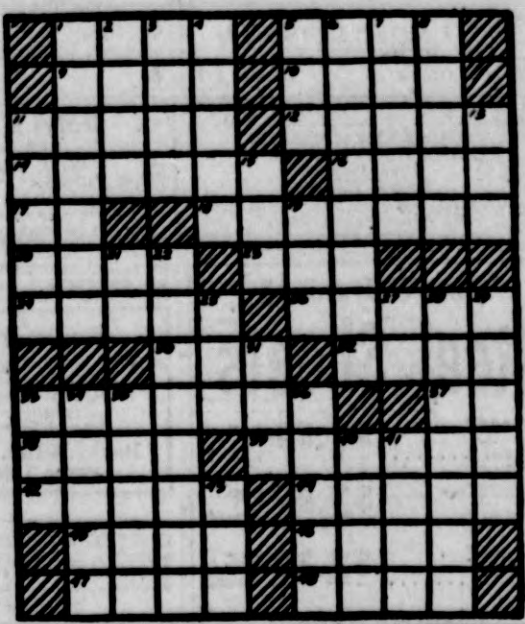

The gentleman, in appropriate pose, is pictured. His name? Walcott Louis! (International)

No Advance Sale For Grays Game

It was announced today that no advance sale of tickets for the Homestead Grays-New York Black Yankees at P. J. Flaherty field Friday will be sold here. The tickets sell for $1.00 with no reserved seats. This is a regular National Professional Negro league game, and the Grays now in first place hope to stay there. The Black Yankees are a great ball club and will give the Grays a tough battle.
